

Help Create a “Graduation Generation”!
Announcing a Two-Day Certification Training for

Why Try?

You are invited to the Muskegon area’s first Why Try? Certification Training, sponsored by the Muskegon Public Schools Community Education Program. Why Try? was introduced at the “Creating a Graduation Generation” Community Conference on May 8, 2008.

Where? At M-TEC, 571 Apple Avenue, Muskegon 49442

When? Wednesday and Thursday, July 23 and 24, 2008
8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.

Who? Consultant Bruce Bushnell from the Why Try? Foundation will train 40 motivated and interested persons. This training is appropriate for people working with at risk youth: teachers, counselors, social workers, student specialists deans, agency professionals, court and law enforcement, higher education student services specialists, community-based and faith-based mentors, etc.

How? A certain number of spaces will be reserved for Muskegon Public Schools’ staff, but we wish to welcome interested others to achieve a good balance of participants focused on helping youth!

Email your enrollment to Diane Crosby by July 11 at dcrosby@mpsk12.net. Include your name, role, organization, and summer phone number, although all confirmation communication will be via email.

What Else? Free to Muskegon Public Schools’ staff, $100 for others. In order to fully utilize your training, you will need to purchase Why Try? curriculum materials. For information, go to www.whytry.org.

Funded in part by Muskegon Public Schools 21st Century Learning Centers Program
